Sail through 2021 with Saxton Marine

The last thing your crew wants to discover is that they have the wrong shackle for the 5 tonne anchor you've ordered them.

Our experienced team won't let that happen.

With the wave of new challenges placed on technical and purchasing professionals, we know you need the procurement process to be as smooth as possible.

Navigating your way to the high-quality, technically correct and competitively priced equipment you need couldn't be easier. With over thirty years experience, we will source what you need quickly, to your exact technical specifications and have your order delivered to a destination of your choice, worldwide.

If you are not sure exactly what equipment you need at the outset, we will ensure you get the order right - first time and on budget.

Our experienced team are available via phone or email, and you can now book a video meeting.

Contact us now for an informal chat on how you can save time and money on your equipment order.
